Boggs announced as executive director of Willing Helpers clinic

STAFF REPORT
news@covnews.com

The Willing Helpers Medical Clinic, located next to Piedmont Newton Hospital, is announcing the appointment of its new executive director, Christine Boggs, who officially began her position on Oct. 12.

Her role is focused on providing the leadership needed to enable Willing Helpers to provide free healthcare to Newton, Jasper and Walton counties' citizens who are uninsured and meet the Federal Poverty Guidelines.

"It feels like all my experiences to date have prepared me for this calling," Boggs said. "I am honored to have the opportunity to work together with the talented staff and board of Willing Helpers Clinic, and through our affiliation with Piedmont Newton Hospital, to serve our patients. As an experienced leader, with a passion for serving the community, their mission resonates with me deeply. I'm looking forward to working together with other community leaders to ensure that proper medical care is received by those less fortunate."

Boggs joined Willing Helpers Clinic in March of this year as a bookkeeper, but quickly found herself filling in the vacant leadership role.

Over the course of her career with the clinic she has introduced and implemented initiatives to streamline operational efficiencies, worked as a champion for cultural change, deepened key relationships and delivered systems to support the medical staff in extending and improving care for their patients.

"Christine has proven her ability in her business skills to help our clinic to grow in a way to meet the needs of our clients who need our free medical clinic in the community," said Mike Franklin, CEO of the WHMC Board of Directors. "Her heart and drive to help those that can't afford traditional medical services has allowed her to easily immerse herself in the current climate of Willing Helpers."

Boggs has more than 20 years' experience in operations, marketing, leadership and strategy development.

Prior to her new role, she served as the administrator to Gainesville Ballet in Gainesville, Georgia, helping to reestablish themselves after a tumultuous period during COVID. She has been on staff with churches, served in several managerial roles within the finance industry, run two successful businesses, and continues consulting with previous colleagues.

Boggs received her business management degree with a concentration in entrepreneurship from Kennesaw State University, in Kennesaw, Georgia. She is a certified Biblical life coach and extremely active with Solid Rock Church, in Social Circle, where her husband is associate pastor.

Meta agrees to donate $300,000 to Newton Trails

Meta representative Katie Comer announced Thursday at the Newton Trails meeting that Meta, the parent company of popular social media apps Facebook, WhatsApp and Instagram, will be donating $300,000 to Newton Trails that will be used to finish construction of the Alcovy River Trestle.

"We believe in investing long-term [in Newton County]," Comer said. "It's more than about the money to us; it's about our connections, our partners."

The money will be used to finish renovating a bridge that will be used for visitors and community members alike to walk and bike across.

Comer expressed the importance of a multinational company like Meta giving back to local communities.

"We want to be great community partners," Comer said. "When looking at the future [of Newton County] we want to make the best, even better."

Newton Trails Chair of the Board of Directors, Duane Ford, was at a loss for words following the announcement.

"I hardly have any words except to say... 'Thank you,'" Ford said.

While expressing his gratitude, Ford mentioned that this is a huge day for all of Newton Trails and will not only help connect the bridge but also the community.

Over 50 members of the community were in attendance, which included representatives from the Newton County Board of Commissioners, the City of Covington and partners from Oxford, Porterdale and Mansfield.

Newton County Commissioner Stan Edwards spoke to the audience, thanking Meta and encouraging the staff of Newton Trails to "keep pushing forward" and continue the growth of the trail system.

City of Covington councilwoman Susie Keck also spoke, stating that the synergy between Meta and Newton Trails is "a symbol of progress and unity" within the community.

Ford also revealed some of the upcoming plans for the future of Newton Trails. He says that they plan to eventually connect the Yellow River Trail and the Cricket Frog Trail. Also planned is the eventual connection of the Eastside and Cricket River trails.

He states that both additions will be made to help make the vision of a county-wide connected trail system a reality.

Ford spoke to The Covington News following the meeting and was extremely optimistic towards the future of Newton Trails, thanking everyone for their support.

"I'm optimistic because our partners are optimistic," Ford said. "I'm so thankful for all of our partners, and especially to the community for all of the support they've given us."

Experts link foster care failures to child sex trafficking

By DAVE WILLIAMS
Capitol Beat

ATLANTA — Georgia youths in the custody of the state’s foster care system are disproportionately likely to become victims of child sex trafficking, several experts in the subject testified Monday.

Between 2018 and last year, the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children received more than 2,400 reports of children missing from foster care in Georgia involving 1,790 children, many of whom went missing several times throughout the year, Samantha Sahl, supervisor of the national nonprofit’s Child Sex Trafficking Recovery Services Team, told a U.S. Senate subcommittee at a hearing in Atlanta.

Of those missing children, 410 were identified as likely child sex trafficking victims, she said.

Sahl and other witnesses blamed the trend on children who run away from horrendous conditions they suffer in foster care settings resulting from systemic failures by the Georgia Division of Family and Children Services (DFCS).

“We know we have an urgent issue when children feel better on the streets or with a trafficker than they do in their foster-care placements,” Sahl said.

Monday’s hearing on conditions in Georgia’s foster care system was the third in the last two weeks held by the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Human Rights, chaired by Sen. Jon Ossoff, D-Ga. At the first hearing, Ossoff revealed the results of a DFCS internal audit that showed the agency failed in 84 percent of cases brought to its attention to address risks and safety concerns.

The second hearing as well as Monday’s testimony focused on the number of children under DFCS supervision who end up missing.

DFCS officials responded to the first two hearings with a letter accusing the subcommittee of failing to request information or responses from DFCS in advance of the hearings and charging the panel’s investigation has been political in nature.

On Monday, Brian Atkinson, a staff lawyer with The Wilbanks Child Endangerment and Sexual Exploitation (CEASE) Clinic at the University of Georgia’s School of Law, said his experience shows entry into Georgia’s foster care system puts children at risk of being trafficked.

“If a child’s caregiver, family, friends, communities, and the state fail to provide for their basic needs of food, shelter, safety, security, love, their survival instincts kick in and they search for other ways to have those needs met, heightening their risk of landing straight in the hands of traffickers,” he said.

Tiffani McLean-Camp, 19, gave personal testimony Monday of her experiences when she entered foster care at age 15 after being physically abused by adoptive parents and sexually abused by a family friend. She said the abuse continued while she was moved to various placements 20 times.

McLean-Camp said one of those placements was in a facility with a gate surrounded by barbed wire, where she was physically abused and overmedicated.

“It felt like being in prison,” she said. “It made me feel like an animal locked up in a cage.”

After she became pregnant and her son was born prematurely, McLean-Camp said she and her infant son were separated at times and then placed in an emergency shelter where she got no attention for post-partum depression or physical complications from her pregnancy.

She said she got no visits from her DFCS case manager and received no help from the agency.

“I had to learn everything on my own,” she said. “I had to teach myself.”

“No child should have to go through the experiences you have survived,” Ossoff told McLean-Camp following her testimony.

Atkinson said he believes the foster care system has made progress in embracing the concept of treating children who fall prey to sex trafficking as victims and not criminals. But he said too many victims still are cast in a negative light, which makes them less likely to get the help they need.

“When our clients reach out to DFCS, they’re met with disbelief, dismissiveness, and often no response at all,” he said.

Violence at Fulton County Jail a product of overcrowding

By DAVE WILLIAMS
Capitol Beat

ATLANTA – The Fulton County Jail needs a new building and more staff, shortcomings that could be solved with more funding, the chief counsel to the Fulton Sheriff’s Department told state lawmakers Thursday.

Overcrowding at the main Rice Street lock-up has led to violence, including 293 stabbings this year, 922 inmate assaults of other inmates, 68 attacks by inmates on staff, and 10 deaths, two of which were homicides, Amelia Joyner testified during the first meeting of a state Senate subcommittee formed to look into problems at the Fulton jail.

Contributing to the violence are a large number of inmates who shouldn’t be in the Fulton jail because they have been convicted of violent crimes and belong in the state prison system, Joyner said.

“We house entirely too many individuals who are dangerous,” she said.

The Fulton Jail is attempting to cope with the overcrowded conditions while seriously understaffed. While the jail’s authorized strength is 1,017, its staff is down to 889, including 243 civilians, Joyner said. Despite a pay raise that brought the starting salary for sworn correctional officers to $60,000 a year, the jail staff’s turnover rate stood at 36.3 percent as of the end of last year, she said.

Joyner said the deteriorating jail building – including crumbling brick and mortar – is adding to the stress.

“The physical plant has been so dilapidated the inmates are able to create weapons,” she said.

Joyner said the sheriff’s department has taken steps to address overcrowding, including working with the court system on pre-trial diversion efforts. Fulton County also has entered agreements to house some of Fulton’s inmates at jails in three other counties and the city of Atlanta, she said.

Those efforts had reduced the jail population from a high of 3,700 to 2,915 as of Wednesday, Joyner said. Still, a few inmates are being forced to sleep on “portable sleeping devices” that are essentially legless cots.

Sen. Randy Robertson, R-Cataula, the subcommittee’s chairman, said none of the overcrowding problems are the sheriff’s department’s fault, since they can’t control how many inmates are brought to the facility.

Robertson suggested the subcommittee will have to look elsewhere for solutions, including to the court systems to reduce the average length of inmate stays at county jails.

Joyner said the average inmate stay at the Fulton jail has risen to 295 days, multiple times the length of time inmates should be expected to be housed at a county jail rather than in a state prison.

STATE FINANCES

Unprecedented surplus sparks debate over state spending

By DAVE WILLIAMS
Capitol Beat

ATLANTA – Legislative Democrats and social services advocates have long complained that Georgia doesn’t spend enough money to meet the educational, health-care, and public-safety needs of a growing population.

But there’s something different about the latest fiscal numbers that prompted the left-leaning Georgia Budget and Policy Institute (GBPI) to release a 15-page report Oct. 31 calling for the state to loosen its purse strings.

The state was sitting on $16 billion in unspent funds at the end of the last fiscal year in June, including $11 billion in undesignated reserves.

“It’s uncharted territory,” said Danny Kansa, the GBPI’s fiscal analyst and the report’s author. “I don’t think it serves anyone to have $11 billion sitting there in an account with no plan for it.”

While news of that much tax money not going toward any purpose is sure to stir debate during the 2024 General Assembly session beginning in January, Republican Gov. Brian Kemp and GOP legislative leaders are sticking with their determination to maintain fiscal discipline.

“The governor looks forward to working closely with the General Assembly on priorities for how the state’s one-time funds will be utilized in a strategically responsible way that does not commit short-term revenue gains to long-term obligations,” Garrison Douglas, a spokesman for Kemp, said back in July as initial word of a third straight year of large budget surpluses was surfacing.

“Everyone’s foaming at the mouth over $16 billion,” state Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Blake Tillery, R-Vidalia, said Nov. 2. “They forget that’s only six months of revenue for the state. You have a rough time and that money will burn very quickly.”

The GBPI report attributes the huge pile of unspent dollars to “repeated underestimations of annual state revenue collections” that resulted in the state bringing in far more tax money than was being spent for three consecutive years. On the other side of the equation, state spending was failing to keep pace with inflation and population growth, according to the report.

“There are several unique areas in which surplus funds present a rare opportunity to address deficits built up over time and projected needs in the future – all while strengthening Georgia’s economy, supporting job creation, and benefiting families statewide,” the report stated.

Specifically, the report suggests the state use undesignated reserves to:

- Create a $7.5 billion, self-sustaining Child Care Trust Fund to promote access to affordable, quality child care.
- Modernize Georgia’s school bus fleet by making long-deferred investments to help cash-strapped local school districts maintain and replace aging buses.
- Provide bonuses to state employees to help agencies providing vital services reduce turnover.

Kansa said the Child Care Trust Fund could pay for itself by being managed in the same way the state handles its teacher and employee retirement system funds. The balance of the fund would compound each year at a rate higher than the annual payout, the report said.

Kansa said one-third of the school buses plying Georgia highways are more than 15 years old because state funding for the buses has been cut significantly in recent years. His report recommends spending $850 million to $2.7 billion to modernize the school bus fleet.

“If we don’t address that, it’s going to be more and more costs for local school districts,” he said. “The state can help local school districts catch their breath.”

Kemp and the General Assembly already have provided targeted pay raises to employees of state agencies suffering high turnover rates, including $11,000 increases for state law enforcement officers during the last two years and $2,000 raises this year for other state workers, teachers, and university system employees. Altogether, teacher salaries have gone up $5,000 since Kemp took office in 2019.

Kansa’s report pointed to annual turnover rates of 25 percent in state agencies Georgians rely on for vital services as evidence the state still needs to do more.

The governor and legislature also have used surplus funds to provide state income tax rebates to Georgians during the last two years, while Kemp has suspended the state sales tax on gasoline to curb rising prices at the pump.

Kansa said those tax cuts are just scratching the surface of the huge pile of undesignated reserves the state could use to beef up investments in ongoing needs.

But Tillery said the General Assembly’s Republican majorities aren’t about to suddenly change course on spending.

“It’s not the state’s money. It’s taxpayers’ money,” he said. “Individuals who think the session is going to be a money-raining-from-heaven free-for-all are mistaken.”

Why Israel has a right to defend itself

When I reflected in this space recently about having lost a grandson some 15 years ago, I received a lot of responses, including from those who had shared a similar experience of losing a child or grandchild of their own.

One particular note stood out. A reader who had suffered such a loss said he was approached by some well-intended soul who said, “I can’t imagine what you are going through.” His answer: “No, you can’t.” If you haven’t had the experience, you can’t imagine what it is like.

I thought about that comment as I observed what is happening in the nation of Israel right now. I can’t imagine what they are going through. On Oct. 7, Iran-backed Hamas militants stormed from Gaza into nearby Israeli towns and massacred over 270 people at a music festival and 100 innocent men, women and children in the kibbutz of Be’eri. At least 1,400 Israelis were killed and over 3,400 wounded. Some 200 were taken hostage. Israeli officials now report an additional 100 to 200 people missing.

Israel is fighting back and hard. Israel’s government has vowed to destroy Hamas, the armed Palestinian group that controls the Gaza Strip and has unleashed a devastating barrage of airstrikes against Gaza. At last count, more than 9,000 people are now dead.

Some people are calling for a ceasefire from both sides. What these people don’t understand is that Israel is fighting for its very existence and it didn’t start this war. The terrorists did. What is a ceasefire going to accomplish? Allow the enemy time to regroup and get stronger?

This is the fifth time in its 75-year existence that Israel’s enemies have set out to destroy the nation, which is surrounded by Arab states, many of whom greeted the sneak attacks with celebrations. Not unlike similar celebrations in the Arab world after the sneak attacks of 9/11 when terrorists killed some 3,000 innocent Americans.

Throughout history, the Jewish people have suffered unimaginable persecutions and pogroms. The worst, of course, being the German Holocaust during World War II when some 6 million Jews were killed in gas chambers or shot, some after undergoing horrific experiments.

I recently viewed a Netflix program called “Ordinary Men: The Forgotten Holocaust.” It was difficult to watch but it should be viewed by everyone to put some context to what Jewish people have had to endure over the centuries. And this happened in the 20th century.

Seemingly ordinary Germans – carpenters, shopkeepers, office workers – were enlisted as members of Nazi police force units to serve in Poland with the sole purpose of killing Jews. This from the land that gave us Brahms and Beethoven a few generations earlier. More than 160,000 Germans applied for some 30,000 openings and

Mike Johnson and his pious dog and pony show

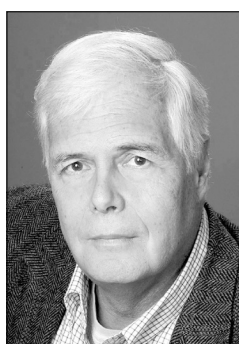

Everybody in the South has known somebody like Republican House Speaker Mike Johnson: an amiable, polite, well-dressed religious crackpot who’s either completely out of his mind or pretends to be for career purposes. Sometimes it’s hard to tell.

If you’re an ambitious politician in someplace like Shreveport, Louisiana, there’s no penalty for professing belief in all manner of absurdities calculated to reassure God-intoxicated true believers in backwoods churches that you’re one of them. Everybody understands, especially the people who put up the money.

There’s nothing in the Bible, for example, that compels Johnson to profess disbelief in climate change – although he could probably manufacture something, if challenged. There are, however, plenty of oil and gas wells around Ark-La-Tex, as the area around Shreveport and Texarkana, Arkansas, is called, and the people who own them mean to extract every cubic centimeter from the ground and turn it into cash. The bulk of Johnson’s campaign funds come from the petrochemical industry.

Never mind that finding oil requires hiring geologists – who understand the actual age of the Earth, some 4.5 billion years. That’s far longer than the 6,600 decreed by the Ark Encounter, the Kentucky theme park Johnson once represented, with its life-sized Noah’s Ark exhibit and sea-faring brontosaurus. The congressman has insisted the Bible story represents historical truth.

It’s the same with evolution. As a creationist, does he take his children to physicians who reject biological science as a satanic lie? Even in Shreveport, those can be hard to find. So, it’s all a shuck and jive. Almost everybody who’s been to college – Johnson has two degrees from LSU – understands the rules of the game, and everybody plays along.

In media interviews, Johnson is anything but shy about advertising his piety, recently describing himself to Fox News propagandist Sean Hannity as “a Bible-believing Christian.” To understand his views, he said, “pick up a Bible off your shelf and read it. That’s my worldview.”

A skeptic might observe that Scripture has been interpreted in rather a lot of different ways over the centuries. To Johnson, however, it’s only in Southern Baptist churches in North Louisiana that perfect fealty to God’s word has been achieved. All others are heretics or worse.

Also during his interview with Hannity, however, Johnson displayed a newfound willingness to accept political reality. He told his host gay marriage is a settled issue and there’s no national consensus on abortion. In the past, he has blamed legal abortion for mass shootings – also feminism, no-fault divorce laws and the “sexual revolution.”

“When you break up the nuclear family, when you tell a generation of people that life has no value, no meaning, that it’s expendable,” he told a New York magazine interviewer in 2015, “then you do wind up with school shooters.” Because to the fundamentalist mind, only two possibilities exist. Either you agree with them on every issue or you’re “of the devil” and an enemy of God. Indeed, Johnson has compared same-sex marriage to the right of “a person to marry his pet.”

Which, come to think of it ...

George Washington once wrote, “...the United States...gives to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance. May the children of the Stock of Abraham, who dwell in this land, continue to merit and enjoy the good will of the other Inhabitants; while every one shall sit in safety under his own vine and figtree, and there shall be none to make him afraid.”

The phrase “under his own vine and fig tree, and there shall be none to make him afraid” is from the Book of Micah. Washington penned the verse in dozens of his letters, as was beautifully recalled in the Broadway musical, Hamilton.

More importantly, it is what the Jews have been seeking for the past 3000 years...a place to raise their children in peace.

Google ‘antisemitism’, and you’ll see a list of hundreds of atrocities committed against the Jews. No other civilization has endured so much persecution, and yet managed to survive.

In Egypt, millions of Jews were enslaved for 400 years. 300 years later, Assyria conquered Israel, annihilating 10 of the 12 tribes. Those tribes were lost forever. About 600 BC, the rest of Israel (Judah) was also conquered, this time by Babylon. 700 years later, Rome leveled Jerusalem, killing a million Jews and taking another 100,000 as slaves.

The Middle Ages were a horrible time for Jews, who suffered hundreds of pogroms, both in Muslim and Christian lands. Very often, thousands of Jews were massacred at a time, usually at the behest of the ruling power.

And, of course, six million Jews were exterminated during the Holocaust, around two thirds of the Jews in Europe.

The lesson is clear: Jews who relied on governments to protect them, were often murdered by those very same governments.

That is why; when the United Nations first created Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, and Jordan; they also created the tiny Jewish state of Israel...so that Jews could – for the first time in thousands of years – protect themselves from further atrocities...to prevent a second Holocaust.

But those very same nations that had just been created by the UN, all refused to accept the very same UN mandate for Israel. Instead, they’ve waged a 75 year war to exterminate a race of people.

That is genocide. That is racism. Many are now asking for a ceasefire. Well, there was a ceasefire...a month ago.

But then, Hamas started beheading babies and raping innocent women and children in the worst atrocity since the Holocaust.

When America was attacked at Pearl Harbor and 9/11, no serious person asked the US for a cease-fire.

Yet, in terms of population, October the 7th was far worse for Israel; with a death toll equivalent to 60,000 Americans.

Worse, Hamas continues to hold hundreds of women and children as hostages – many of them Americans.

Yet, a leader of Hamas just declared that the result was more than two million Jews died by mass firing squads.

Jews were divided into groups of 50. Victims either stood or knelt facing their executioners, positioned so they would fall directly into mass graves or were shot in the surrounding forest. Mothers were told to hold their babies against their chest so that one bullet would kill them both. The firing squads systematically mowed down group after group until nightfall. The shooters would gather after work for drinks and dinner and one even brought his new bride along. And you think Jews don't have a right to be angry?

As for our own civilized society, we have not committed such heinous crimes as have been inflicted on Jewish people over the course of their history but we have and still do show our worst side at times. I have a friend who grew up in South Georgia where restaurants refused to serve Jews and kids taunted her and threw rocks at her – for being Jewish Anisemitism is on the rise across the country, particularly after the Hamas attacks. Pointy-head academics and simple-minded college kids and despicable vermin like the Goyim Defense League hate group continue to push vitriolic messages about Jews.

It is interesting, though not surprising, to see Israel now being cast as the bad guy in some circles for their all-out assault on civilian targets, overlooking the fact that Hamas hides their weapons in homes, schools and hospitals. How else will you root them out? Israel didn't start this war. But they aim to finish it. As I stated earlier, I can't imagine what it is like to be Jewish, but if I were I would tell the world: תחתה תא יל קשנל. Look it up.

Who starts purring madly when I climb into the marital bed at night? My wife, or Martin, the orange tabby? Who gets up early to read the newspaper and who stays wedged by my side? Have I chosen the wrong gender and species?

But I digress. Johnson claims firmer views. See, when the U.S. Constitution says, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion," it really means that Protestant fundamentalism rules.

Similarly, when Thomas Jefferson wrote, "It does me no injury for my neighbour to say there are 20 gods or no God," he really meant to establish a biblical republic based upon a literalist reading of Scripture. That this is absurdly ahistorical matters hardly at all. It's called "Christian Nationalism," and millions in the so-called red states have chosen to believe it.

They would have you believe theirs is an embattled faith. According to Johnson, "It is only and always the Christian viewpoint that is getting censored. The fact is, the left is always trying to shut down the voices of the Christians."

And yet God has elevated a champion. "I believe God has ordained and allowed each one of us to be brought here for this specific moment," he said during his first speech upon being elected speaker.

And that champion's main purpose, he has made clear, will be elevating Donald J. Trump, that thrice-married career adulterer, p-y-grabber and adjudicated rapist to the presidency. Johnson was one of the prime movers among GOP congressmen trying to overturn the 2020 presidential election, crafting absurd legal arguments even the Republican Supreme Court rejected out of hand.

Think about it: Trump reinstalled in the White House.

he was the victim. He warned that the massacre of Jews will happen "again and again" until Israel was "annihilated." He also claimed that their atrocities were "justified", saying, "We are proud to sacrifice martyrs."

But perhaps the most galling of all, are Americans who defend the same terrorists who slaughtered women and children. Many of the same people who told us there's "no place for hate" are now shouting "death to the Jews".

How is that possible?

Did you know that Arabs living in Israel have full Israeli citizenship, serve in the Israeli parliament, serve as Israeli judges, and voluntarily serve in the Israeli army?

Indeed, Israel is one of the most ethnically diverse countries in the world. Half of Israelis came from Arab nations, and 20% of Israeli citizens are Arab.

There are hundreds of operating mosques in Israel. How many synagogues are there in Gaza? And, of course, Hamas routinely hangs LGBTQ+ people, and affords their women almost no rights.

Israel is the only democracy and one of only two nations in the Middle East that has LGBTQ+ rights. Israel offers women full citizenship and healthcare to everyone (including Palestinians) regardless of their ethnicity.

Civilization itself is on the line. If we can't stand united against this savage attack against the only free peoples of the Middle East; then we, ourselves, will be targeted again and again.

After the Holocaust, we all said, "Never Again."

Did we mean it?

PEACHTREE ACADEMY FOOTBALL

Cougars gear-

By GARRETT PITTS
Sports Editor

After defeating Praise Academy in the first round of the state playoffs, the Peachtree Academy Cougars will look to take down Vidalia Heritage for the second time in three weeks. The Cougars defeated the Lions 18-14 in the first round of the GAPPS Class A playoffs. The win set Peachtree Academy up with another matchup with the Eagles, who they beat 22-16 to secure a share of the region title.

Going into the week, head coach Jim Eidson believes he has his players' minds in the right spot ahead of Friday's contest.

"The mindset for us going into this week is that 'Nothing is given to us,'" Eidson said. "We need to know that we played Vidalia once before, it was a close game but we played one of our best games all year. I know Vidalia is a good program and they will be out to get us and rightfully so. We have to go into it prepared and to expect the unexpected."

One key to Peachtree Academy's win over Vidalia Heritage was the Cougars ability to stop the run. Eidson knows that the trenches will once again decide the game on Friday.

"We were able to shut down their run game a bit to make them one dimensional," Eidson said. "That is what we hope to do so we can concentrate on one side of the [offense]. When you are able to do that it makes coaching a lot easier."

After starting the season 0-2, the Cougars have gone 6-2 since.

Eidson links the change of direction to a mix of veteran players returning from injury and younger players filling in the voids left by the injuries.

"We had a few injuries at the start of the season, one being Justin Mingo and another being Jayden Maxwell," Eidson said. "Getting those guys back was a major help for us. We have also had a few younger guys step up and get used to the way that we play."

Coaching a young team, Eidson is happy with the playoff experience that the roster is earning and credits those players for the success of Peachtree Academy in 2023.

"I am ecstatic for them," Eidson said. "We have a lot of guys new to the games so for us to be where we are at with them being as new as they are, I truly believe it is a testament to their work ethic and willingness to be open minded and coachable."

After beating the Eagles at home in late October, the Cougars will be on the road to face Vidalia Heritage Friday, Nov. 10.

After 12 weeks of action packed football, it is now time for the playoffs.

The Eastside Eagles, Newton Rams and Social Circle Redskins will each host the first round of playoff football this upcoming weekend.

Eastside Eagles

The Eagles finished the regular season with a 7-3 record overall while going 5-1 in region play.

Eastside finished as the No. 2 seed in Region 8-A-A-A-A-A. Therefore they will be hosting the first round of the Class A-A-A-A-A playoffs.

In the opening round, the Eagles will be at Sharp Stadium Friday, Nov. 10 against the Chapel Hill Panthers.

The Panthers ended the regular season with an 8-2 record.

Newton Rams

After suffering consecutive region losses to Parkview and South Gwinnett, the Rams rallied in the final week of the season to defeat Archer. The win over the Tigers secured Newton's playoff spot.

The Rams went 8-2 overall with a 3-2 record as the No. 2 seed in Region 4-A-A-A-A-A-A-A.

Newton will host the Camden County Wildcats Saturday, Nov. 11 at Sharp Stadium in the first round of the class A-A-A-A-A-A-A state playoffs at 7 p.m.

NCSS ATHLETICS

New classifications recently announced

By GARRETT PITTS
Sports Editor

A pair of Newton County Schools will be in a new classification for their athletics programs in 2024.

The Georgia High School Association (GHSA) announced new classifications for the 2024 through 2026 school years. The change saw Alcovy High School and Newton High School change classifications.

Alcovy will move from Class A-A-A-A-A to Class A-A-A-A-A.

Newton will move from Class A-A-A-A-A-A-A to Class A-A-A-A-A. The 2024 school year will be the Rams' first time in Class A-A-A-A-A since 2006.

Eastside High School will remain in Class A-A-A-A-A and Social Circle High School will remain in A-Division I.

The girls team consisted of five runners, and Carter was the one ahead for the Eagles.

Carter finished in 26th place with a time of 20:35.52.

As the lone senior on the girls team, Watson expressed how big of a leadership role Carter has played on the team in 2023 and how she performed at the state championship.

"Destiny ran her best race of the year. There was a girl who beat Destiny at region and Destiny beat her by 30 seconds today. She ran out of her mind, she ran her PR on this course which is insane," Watson said. "This is her first year racing cross country, and she has just been lights out all year. She is a great leader on the team. All of the other girls are freshman and sophomores so to have her as a senior to show them the ropes and have them in the right spots is awesome."

Maren Poynter and Madeline O'Brien had runs of 26:01.55 and 26:01.91, respectively.

Kailynn Cullins finished with a run of 27:44.84 while Max Tyner ended with a time of 30:21.38.

Tigers end 2023 season just outside playoffs

ALCOVY PLAYERS RUN ONTO THE FIELD FOR THEIR SEASON FINALE GAME AGAINST ROCKDALE COUNTY. | JASON MUSSELL

By GARRETT PITTS
Sports Editor

The Alcovy Tigers ended their season on a high note Friday with a 38-0 win over Rockdale County.

The win put the final touches on a 4-6 season for the Tigers, who went 3-4 in Region 3-AAAAA play.

Prior to the season, head coach Spencer Fortson saw the offensive line as a strength for the team going into the year.

The offensive line allowed senior Kemoi Burke to have a breakout season in the backfield.

Burke provided production for the Alcovy offense that could not seem to find rhythm through the air at times.

The senior tailback rushed for three touchdowns in each of Alcovy's final two games against Jonesboro and Rockdale County.

Behind center, Fortson rotated Patrick Lucero and PJ Wolfe throughout the season as both quarterbacks received playing time and snaps within the offense.

Both quarterbacks are expected to return in 2024.

On the defensive side of the ball, "The Black Swarm" defense seemed to live up to its name.

Alcovy leaned on their defense throughout the year, and their biggest performance came against Forest Park.

Against the Panthers, "The Black Swarm" caused three safeties that played pivotal roles in the Tigers 47-0 win.

The season started on a high note for the Tigers.

Alcovy beat Lithonia 42-19 in week one before going on a four game skid.

The four-game losing streak saw the Tigers fall to Eastside, Newton, Mundy's Mill and Woodward Academy.

The Tigers broke out of the losing streak in a thriller at home.

Against Morrow, Alcovy won 14-13 on a last-second missed field goal by the Mustangs.

Following the win, the Tigers dropped games to Lovejoy and Jonesboro before defeating Rockdale County in the final week of the season.

The end of the 2023 season marked the departures of key skill position players for the Tigers.

Among the graduating players are Burke, BJ Johnson, Nasir Watson, Taylor Richardson and Maliq Eubanks.

The Tigers will enter 2024 in a new region following their reclassification into Class AAAAA for the 2024-2026 school years.

EASTSIDE CROSS COUNTRY

Seniors lead way for Eagles at state meet

By GARRETT PITTS
Sports Editor

Seniors Grayson Poynter and Destiny Carter led the way for the Eastside Eagles at the Class AAAAA Georgia cross country championship Friday morning in Carrollton.

After successful runs at the Region 8-AAAAA championship, six Eastside runners qualified for the state title.

Head coach Caleb Watson talked about the work that the boys and girls teams put in during the region championship races to earn them a spot at state.

"This has been what we have been working for all season," Watson said. "The goal was to get to state. We have the hardest region in [Class AAAAA] with Jefferson, Clarke Central and Logaville. We were a little bummed that the boys did not advance as a team. We had a few guys sick the week of the region [races] which sucked. To have Grayson, who is a four year senior, advance was huge. For the girls, they had a great race at [the] region [championship]."

The championships were held in Carrollton, and Poynter ran first as the lone boys runner for the Eagles.

The track was 5,000 meters and that spanned around Carrollton elementary and middle schools.

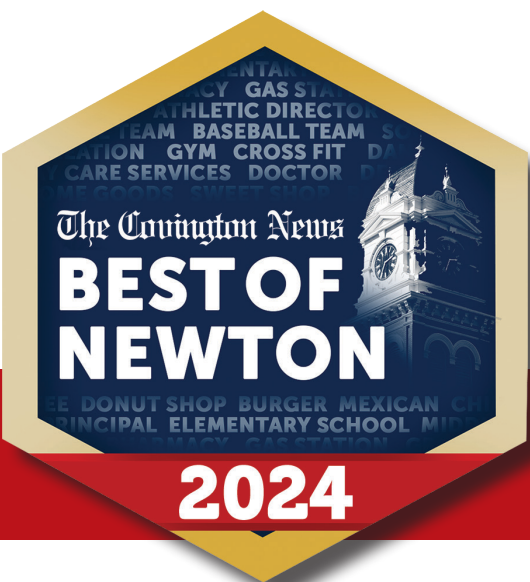

Poynter finished in 36th place with a time of 17:04.42. The race was the last for Poynter as an Eastside Eagle.

Following the race, Watson had nothing but great things to say about what Poynter has meant to the cross country program.

"My first year coaching was in his freshman year, and we had six kids on the team, we had no girls and six guys. He came in as a freshman and was instantly the best runner and he set the tone for the rest of the team," Watson said. "Now we have 26 on the team, the team has grown a lot. I told him after his race, 'Great job, this team would not be where we are without you,' we are going to miss him, he is the hardest worker I have ever coached."

Hubbard: Veterans deserve to be celebrated and supported

During my time at The Covington News, we have published many special sections and magazines. Of all of ours, though, this Veterans Day special section is my favorite.

It's because I wholeheartedly believe that Veterans deserve to be celebrated and supported.

mind. It takes someone with a willing heart and commitment to our great country to serve in the military.

Today, I am grateful that God blessed America with brave men and women like Mr. Burson and others in the Newton County area and beyond to protect our country and freedom.

To any Veteran who may read this section and column, I thank you. I thank you for your bravery, your commitment and willingness to step up and sacrifice so much for the United States of America.

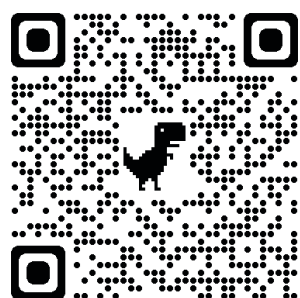

We may never meet face-to-face, but I want to say I appreciate all you have done.

To close this column out, I leave you with more inspiring words from Mr. Burson.

"Right or wrong, it's my country," Burson said. "We got a few wrongs but, oh what a great country we have. And it's because we have people willing to give their lives for us to have a good, safe place."

Frequently asked questions about Veterans Day

Each November, millions of people recognize the service and sacrifice of military veterans on Veterans Day. Initially commemorated as Armistice Day but renamed Veterans Day in the United States in 1954, the holiday is a federal holiday throughout the country.

The first Armistice Day was observed in 1919. Despite that lengthy history, the general public may still have questions about Veterans Day.

When is Veterans Day observed?

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs notes that Veterans Day is always observed officially on Nov. 11, regardless of which day of the week that happens to be. In 2023, Veterans Day is Saturday, Nov. 11. Because Veterans Day falls on a Saturday in 2023, the federal observation date is Friday, Nov. 10.

Why is Nov. 11 so significant?

Nov. 11 is a significant day in world history because it marks the signing of the armistice between the Allies of World War I and Germany at 5:45 a.m. on Nov. 11, 1918. Though the formal peace treaty, the Treaty of Versailles, was not signed until 1919 and hostilities between the sides continued for hours after the armistice was signed, the day is still viewed as the end of World War I.

What distinguishes Veterans Day from Memorial Day?

The VA notes that Veterans Day honors all those individuals who served honorably in the military during both wartime and peacetime. Memorial Day is a day to honor and remember military personnel who died in the service of their country, particularly those who lost their lives in battle or as a result of wounds sustained in battle.

What is the significance of red poppies?

Red poppies are ubiquitous on Memorial Day, but they're also visible on Veterans Day. Though it's not taboo to wear red poppies on Veterans Day, it's a tradition that aligns more with Memorial Day. That's because the poppies are typically worn to honor fallen military personnel. A 1915 poem written by a Canadian Lieutenant Colonel named John McCrae referred to the fields of poppies growing around the graves of World War I soldiers in Flanders.

Do other countries honor their military veterans?

Many countries across the globe honor their military veterans, and many do so on Nov. 11 as well. For example, Canadians and Australians observe Remembrance Day in honor of their nation's respective veterans on Nov. 11. Great Britain observes Remembrance Day on the Sunday nearest to Nov. 11.

Veterans Day is a day to honor and commemorate the brave men and women who have honorably served in the U.S. military during wartime and peacetime

"This nation will remain the land of the free only so long as it is the home of the brave."

Veteran Profile: Daniel Padgett

PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
Managing Editor

At 16 years old, Daniel Padgett became interested in serving his country as a member of the military. He attended Youth Challenge Academy — which is a military school program — and then met a friend of his family.

That family friend helped Padgett with his start in the military, too.

“After graduating, I had a family friend, who had served in the Army, become a mentor to me,” Padgett said. “He told me about his time in service and helped guide me through the whole process and also helped with choosing my MOS.”

Padgett served 10 years (from 2002-2012) in the Georgia Army National Guard. He explained what he did during his time of service.

“My MOS while serving was rotary wing aircraft electrical repair. I traveled to many different places to maintain and repair aircrafts during missions,” Padgett said. “Many of my missions were for disaster relief around the nation as well as one tour to Iraq.”

He comes from a family, too, where many relatives served across different branches.

Padgett’s grandfather served in the Marines during Korea while his father served in The Air Force and brother served in The Navy. Several of Padgett’s cousins are presently serving in different branches, too.

Additionally, Padgett mentioned he met people during his service that he remains in contact with today.

“I still keep in touch with friends that I made during my time,” Padgett said. “We all served together and built a close bond over the years.”

Presently, Padgett works with Mobile Hydraulics — a mobile hose repair company — and he has been there for the past five years. Padgett is also one of the company’s lead technicians.

Padgett said he had been in the mechanical field “since I was young.” So, when he returned from his tour in Iraq, he landed a job similar to Mobile Hydraulics. Padgett worked there for a few years as well as at other jobs in the mechanical field.

Soon thereafter, Padgett came across Mobile Hydraulics.

“I really wanted to get back into hydraulics so I looked up Mobile Hydraulics online and called the office,” Padgett said. “After speaking with Joey [Holloway] and finding out more about the business and the values he had in place, I knew this was a company that I could be proud to work for. After five years, I still feel the same and don’t regret joining the team.”

Padgett shared that the favorite part of his job is the “unknown day-to-day.”

“I never know what kind of machines I will be working on or where the jobs will take me,” Padgett said. “I really enjoy helping our customers when they are in need and being able to get them running again.”

Victoria Holloway told The Covington News that the company takes “pride in hiring service members.”

She even stated that the company has had dozens of former military employees.

Padgett said Mobile Hydraulics’ emphasis on hiring military members was a bonus in his decision to come work there five years ago.

“Knowing that service members take pride in their work let me know that I was joining a team of professionals who shared a sense of pride as well as our core values,” Padgett said.

Estimates from the Department of Veterans Affairs indicate that there are around 19 million veterans in the United States in 2023. Veterans Day, observed each year on Nov. 11, honors all those who served honorably in the U.S. military during both wartime and peacetime. Data from the VA indicates that, as of 2016, Gulf War veterans account for the largest share of all U.S. veterans. Roughly 7.8 million veterans served during the Gulf War. Vietnam veterans also make up a sizable percentage of U.S. military veterans, as VA estimates indicate there were approximately 5.9 million veterans who fought in the Vietnam War in 2021. Though veterans need not have served in wartime in order to be recognized and honored on Veterans Day, the vast majority of U.S. veterans served during wartime. According to the VA, 78 percent of veterans in 2023 had served during wartime.

60,000-65,000 INDIVIDUAL DONATIONS HAVE BEEN MADE TO PURETALK'S CAMPAIGN SINCE JANUARY 2023. SPECIAL PHOTOS

PureTalk rounds up for veterans

PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
Managing Editor

In the early part of 2023, PureTalk launched a campaign called “Round Up for Veterans.” It’s an option that allows PureTalk customers to donate to the American Warrior Project (AWP) by rounding up their monthly bill to the nearest dollar.

The idea came about after one visit to a grocery store by PureTalk’s chief strategy officer Will Curry.

“It’s a value that we stand behind as a company and it’s important to our country and we’re patriotics,” Curry said. “I just had this thought one day — I think I might’ve gone to a store that asked me to round up — and I said, ‘You know what? We need to create a program where we round up and find a charity. I have a personal relationship with AWP. I can use them as my test charity.’”

Three years ago, Curry met Jim Lorraine — AWP’s president and CEO. Curry’s dad, who was in the Air Force, was injured in service and was having difficulty receiving VA benefits. Lorraine assisted Curry and his dad to get those benefits.

That is why AWP is the charity of PureTalk’s campaign.

“This was about three years ago. As the PureTalk brand was growing in parallel as that personal relationship of mine was growing, we started to get to a size where we wanted to identify ourselves,” Curry said. “‘Who are we to our customers? Who are we to the public?’ And AWP had always been in the back of my mind. ‘How can I do something to help Veterans? How can the company do something?’”

AWP is an organization that Curry said helps “link veterans to necessary services that may not be generally available.”

At present, there have been approximately 60,000-65,000 individual donations since the campaign’s inception in January 2023.

Curry emphasized how the nature of billing in the telecommunications industry has impacted the program’s success.

“The beautiful thing about our business is it’s a recurring business. When someone signs up, they have the option to say,

‘Yeah, you can round up my change this one time.’ Or, ‘Hey, every month, I round up every month so my bill is a flat dollar amount,’” Curry said. “Now, we’ve built this base of customers — and we build it every month — that say, ‘Sure, you can round up my bill for AWP every month.’ Our goal is to get it to a very meaningful number for AWP.”

There are future plans for PureTalk to include other charities and organizations into this campaign, too, outside of AWP.

In late September 2023, PureTalk announced another campaign to relieve $10 million in debt for military men and women.

Curry believes PureTalk’s quality service as a mobile network provider in addition to its support of veterans separates them from similar companies in the same space.

“We constantly manage to make sure we’re providing value to our customers but also we want customers that understand our values — family, country, being in freedom. The owners and management at PureTalk believe in those things and we think there’s a lot of customers out there that share those values and want to do business with a company that does,” Curry said. “Opposed to bigger companies who go wherever political winds push them to go. We don’t do that. We stay true to our values.”

“While we don’t necessarily don’t get political, we feel champion veterans’ cause is something everyone should get behind and it’s something that everyone can relate to. It shows what kind of company and people we are.”

news@covnews.com

Veterans Day (United States) and Remembrance Day (Canada) are commemorated each year on Nov. 11. Both holidays honor the individuals who served in the armed forces for their respective countries.

Community-wide events tend to be held on Nov. 11, but any day of the year is a good time to pay respect to veterans. On a local level, people can do much to thank veterans for their service and sacrifice.

- Provide a free restaurant meal. Offer to take out a veteran for breakfast, lunch or dinner. If you see a veteran eating in a restaurant, anonymously pay the bill for that person.

- Send care packages. Communities can gather resources and chip in to make care packages for veterans who live in town, and even to send to troops stationed elsewhere. Include foods and comforts from home.

- Buy from veterans. Seek out veteran-owned businesses in the area, and then make purchases from their retail stores or utilize their services.

- Volunteer at a VA hospital. Spend time with veterans where they receive care for current health needs or past injuries suffered in combat.

- Decorate cemeteries. Honor fallen veterans by placing flowers or flags by their gravesites.

- Participate in a parade. If your town hosts a Veterans Day or Remembrance Day parade, find out how you can volunteer or be a part of it. Oftentimes parade officials enable youth groups, such as high school marching bands or scouting troops, to participate in the parade.

- Write to the newspaper. Write an op-ed or highlight piece to submit to the newspaper about veterans in the community. Mention local veterans who have unique stories, or speak about the importance of veterans to the community.

- Ask a veteran to speak. If you work in a school or a community center, ask veterans to share their experiences with area youth.

- Visit local memorials. Spend time visiting memorials nearby and paying homage to the veterans who devoted their time, or even their lives, to service.

Community members have plenty of opportunities and ways to give back to veterans in the area.

BY DANA SIMPSON

Wrenn Schmidt in
"For All Mankind"

Out of this world TV: Season 4 of 'For All Mankind' enters new millennium

Whether it takes "one small step" or "one giant leap" to get to your couch, do it "For All Mankind." The hit Apple TV+ television series "For All Mankind" is back for a fourth season Friday, Nov. 10, after taking a year-and-a-half-long hiatus. With one Primetime Emmy win under its belt already, the sci-fi drama's newest season is comprised of another 10 episodes, thus bringing the total episode count for the series to a whopping 40.

The series first made (gravitational?) waves when it premiered on its home streamer in 2019. Marketed as an alternate version of 1969, in which "the Soviet Union beats the United States to the moon" (per IMDb), the series reimagines history and speculates how this one change in events could have sparked a whole new world order. Largely focused on the political and scientific ramifications of the then-U.S.S.R. making history on the moon, "For All Mankind" Season 1 leaned into the idea of a space race that "continues on for decades with still grander challenges and goals."

With the premiere of Season 2 in February 2021, the astronauts faced an all-new set of challenges that took place more than a decade after the moon landing. Having confronted everything from lunar ice and trespassers to gender debates in Season 1, the next two seasons promised higher stakes and bigger problems. And on this promise it surely delivered.

From natural disasters such as solar storms and generally harsh living conditions to personal qualms ranging from reckless and selfish behavior to ego-based contests and grand political motivations, there has never been a dull moment on the screen — or in the lives of "For All Mankind's" fictionalized astronauts and their families.

One of these astronauts is Edward Baldwin, played by "The Killing's" Joel Kinnaman. The head of the Baldwin family, which has seen some serious struggles throughout the show's three seasons to date, Ed is one of NASA's best astronauts and is rumored to have been based upon real-life Apollo 10 commander Thomas P. Stafford. While Ed has been supported by several family members over the years, including Karen (Shantel VanSanten, "Shooter"), Kelly (Cynthia Wu, "Holidate," 2020) and Shane (played by brothers Teddy and Tait Blum, "Big Little Lies" and "Shooter," respectively), the only confirmed Baldwin returning (other than Ed) is Kelly.

Joining Ed in space and on Earth are returning characters Ellen Wilson (Jodi Balfour, "Quarry"), Margo Madison (Wrenn Schmidt, "Nope," 2022), Danielle Poole (Krys Marshall, "Supergirl"), Helios Aerospace founder Dev Ayesa (Edi Gathegi, "The Blacklist") and Aleida Rosales (Coral Peña, "The Post," 2017).

Viewers who are already familiar with "For All Mankind" and who may be wondering what is to come in the newest season need look no further than the official trailer, as issued by Apple TV+ in mid-September. Time flies in "For All Mankind," and in a move that echoes the near-decade jump from Season 2 into Season 3 in June 2022, the fourth season of the series picks up eight years after the Season 3 finale.

"Rocketing into the new millennium in the eight years since Season 3," reads an Apple TV+ news release from Sept. 13, "Happy Valley has rapidly expanded its footprint on Mars by turning former foes into partners. Now 2003, the focus of the space program has turned to the capture and mining of extremely valuable, mineral-rich asteroids that could change the future of both Earth and Mars."

But Apple is quick to remind viewers of the darkness lurking in space as "simmering tensions between the residents of the now-sprawling international base threaten to undo everything they are working towards."

"How to Become a Mob Boss" (Nov. 14)

Narrator Peter Dinklage guides audiences through this darkly satirical how-to guide that explores the rise and fall of history's most notorious mob bosses — from Al Capone to Pablo Escobar — and their tactics for success.

"Best Christmas Ever!" (Nov. 16)

Every Christmas, Jackie (Brandy Norwood) sends a boastful holiday newsletter that makes her old college friend Charlotte (Heather Graham) feel like a lump of coal. When a twist of fate lands Charlotte and her family on Jackie's snowy doorstep just days before Christmas, she seizes the opportunity to prove her old friend's life can't possibly be that perfect. Jason Biggs and Matt Cedeño, Wyatt Hunt, Abby Villasmil and Madi-skye Validum also star.

"Rustin" (Nov. 17)

The architect of 1963's momentous March on Washington, Bayard Rustin (Colman Domingo) was one of the greatest activists and organizers the world has ever known. He fought for what he believed in and he did not back down. This biographical drama shines a long overdue spotlight on the extraordinary man who, alongside giants like the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. (Aml Ameen), Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (Jeffrey Wright), and Ella Baker (Audra McDonald), dared to imagine a different world, and inspired a movement in a march toward freedom.

"Scott Pilgrim Takes Off" - Season 1 (Nov. 17)

Based on Bryan Lee O'Malley's hit graphic novels, which were adapted into the 2010 live-action film "Scott Pilgrim vs. the World," this new anime adaptation is bringing back Scott (Michael Cera), Ramona Flowers (Mary Elizabeth Winstead), and all seven of her evil exes. Reuniting the cast of the live-action film, the series also voice stars Aubrey Plaza, Brie Larson, Chris Evans,

BEST KENNEDY DRAMAS

"PT 109" (1963): John F. Kennedy—who is recalled in the new History documentary series "Kennedy," starting Saturday, Nov. 18—selected Cliff Robertson to play him in this earnest retelling of the then-president's time as a Navy lieutenant.
"The Missiles of October" (1974, TV): William Devane made a major leap toward stardom with his JFK portrayal in this Cuban Missile Crisis drama.
"Kennedy" (1983, TV): Almost a decade after playing RFK in "The Missiles of October," Martin Sheen credibly portrayed JFK in this miniseries.
"Robert Kennedy and His Times" (1985, TV): Brad Davis did a fine job as RFK in a miniseries about the politician's years as attorney general and senator.
"The Kennedys of Massachusetts" (1990, TV): As Joseph and Rose Kennedy, William Petersen and Annette O'Toole led an impressive cast in this miniseries about the entire clan.

"JFK" (1991): Arguably the best-known movie to have John F. Kennedy as its subject, director Oliver Stone's drama also sparked a firestorm with its take on the official account of the assassination.
"JFK: Reckless Youth" (1993, TV): A decade before "Grey's Anatomy," Patrick Dempsey took the challenge of portraying the younger years of the icon-to-be.
"Jackie Bouvier Kennedy Onassis" (2000, TV): Of the actresses who have played the former first lady, Joanne Whalley fared particularly well, with Tim Matheson making a fine JFK.
"Thirteen Days" (2000): The Cuban Missile Crisis also was the focus of this drama, with Bruce Greenwood as JFK in a cast led by Kevin Costner as presidential aide Kenneth O'Donnell.
"Bobby" (2006): That's "Bobby" as in Robert F. Kennedy, with writer, director and co-star Emilio Estevez delving into the effects of the assassination on others present at the L.A. hotel where it happened.

"The Kennedys" (2011, TV): Despite content concerns that saw this miniseries relocate from History to Reelz, the performances by Emmy winner Barry Pepper (as RFK) and nominee Greg Kinnear (as JFK) make it worthwhile.
"Parkland" (2013): The "Bobby"-like drama about events at the Dallas hospital where the November 1963 shooting victims were taken features many familiar faces, from Billy Bob Thornton and Marcia Gay Harden to Paul Giamatti and Colin Hanks (whose father Tom was one of the film's producers).
"11.22.63" (2016, TV): What if the fateful day in question had gone differently? This drama based on a Stephen King book poses the query and speculates about the answer.
"Jackie" (2016): An Oscar nominee for the performance, Natalie Portman is compelling in her portrayal of Jacqueline Kennedy in the immediate aftermath of the JFK assassination.

Jaime Camil is game to host contests

Q: It's interesting to see Jaime Camil as a game-show host on CBS's "Loteria Loca." Has he ever done a job like that before? – Jennifer Bridge, via e-mail

A: In fact, he has. Though the actor arguably is best-known from his 2014-19 run on The CW's "Jane the Virgin," he has done a variety of jobs during his entertainment career, one of which was his hosting the Mexican edition of the game "Le Gran Show" in 2010. Camil also has been a singer, has acted in telenovelas and has done cartoon voice-overs, but he maintains that he particularly enjoys stage work. He put his vocal talents to good use on Broadway as Billy Flynn in "Chicago" in 2016, and "West Side Story" and "Peter Pan" are among other theatrical productions that have featured him. Unfortunately, "Loteria Loca" faced a mid-season cancellation in late October.

Q: I saw "The Exorcist" recently on AMC. Was that Linda Blair's first movie? – Don Parks, Fresno, Calif.

A: She had done catalog ads and television commercials, and she had little-seen roles in the 1968-69 NBC soap opera "Hidden Faces" (in which Roy Scheider also was a cast member) and the early-1970s movies "The Way We Live Now" and "The Sporting Club" before she read for director William Friedkin for the role of possessed youngster Regan MacNeil in "The Exorcist." She was selected from a reported field of 600 hopefuls for the part in the horror classic, for which she received an Oscar nomination and a Golden Globe Award. She played Regan again in the 1977 sequel "Exorcist II: The Heretic." Blair has remained in the public eye, whether in other movies ("Airport 1975," "Hell Night," etc.), television films ("Born Innocent," "Sarah T. – Portrait of a Teenage Alcoholic," etc.) or the occasional stage project ("Grease"). Last year, she was a participant on Fox's "The Masked Singer," but her main activity for some time has been her Linda Blair WorldHeart Foundation that benefits rescue animals.
